Cookie policy

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site.

This website uses some cookies which are essential, and the site cannot work as expected without them. These cookies are set when you submit a form in an enquiry or to download a document.

We also use some non-essential cookies to anonymously track visitors or enhance your experience of the site. We use Google Analytics to collect information about how visitors use our site and to help us improve our site. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, such as statistics on the number of visitors to the site, where visitors have come to the site from and the pages they visited.
